

Avoidance

(a song, circa 2000ish) Kelly Mullins

You can't find what you're looking for
Always gone, but wanting more;
Looking hard for a place to hide
Always residing deep inside

Where are you now?
You've lost this day.
I wonder how
You'll find your way.
You can't decide
What it means to you;
You don't realize
What's really true.

Off again in your own small world
Looking for truth, but it came unfurled
Wondering what it is you fear
Not realizing that it's all still here.

Searching for peace in your own small way
Trying to hide from the things you say
What can you do to make it all seem real
How can I tell you how I truly feel.

Where are you now?
You've lost this day.
I wonder how
You'll find your way.
You can't decide
What it means to you;
You don't realize
What's really true.
