

Change

By now
I should be this or that but I am neither neither am I between the two nor on that side of this not on the other side of that

I was something else entirely when I was older than before now I'm even older still but not as old as I will be when I become something else

I will one day be completely different than what I've been,
completely separate
from what I am
something new
